

The New Zealand Journal of History

Vol. 12, No. 1

April, 1978

CONTENTS

Margaret Tennant: Mrs Grace Neill in the Department of Asylums, Hospitals and Charitable Institutions	3
Beryl Hughes: Nursing Education: The Collapse of the Diploma of Nursing at the University of Otago, 1925-1926	17
Erik Olssen: The Impact of John A. Lee's Expulsion upon the Labour Party	34
W.P. Morrell: Colonists and Aborigines in the Early Australian Settlements	50
M.A.R. Graves: Books on Elizabethan and Stuart History for Schools	62
Review Article: New Zealand Literary History (Keith Sinclair)	69
Reviews: Erik Olssen, John A. Lee (Michael Bassett), 75; D.R. Simmons, The Great New Zealand Myth: a Study of the Discovery and Origin Traditions of the Maori (Margaret Orbell), 79; Hugh Laracy, Marists and Melanesians. A History of Catholic Missions in the Solomon Islands (G.M. Denning), 81; J.W. Davidson, Peter Dillon of Vanikoro: Chevalier of the South Seas (Patricia Grimshaw), 82; David Bedggood (ed.), Red Papers in New Zealand (M.R. Stenson), 84; E.H. McCormick, Omai, Pacific Envoy (O.H.K. Spate), 85; Gilbert Archey, Whaowhia: Maori Art and its Artists (S.M. Mead), 87; Graham Bush, Bristol and its Municipal Government 1820-1851 (Graeme Dunstall), 89; K.R. Howe, The Loyalty Islands: A History of Culture Contacts 1840-1900 (David Hilliard), 90.
News	93
Obituary	95

P89005427

995.005
N53

12

NEW ZEALAND HISTORY 1978

Edward Gibbon Wakefield in New Zealand – his political career 1854-4 by Peter Stuart. 196 pages, paperback, only $2.50. This book has had very good reviews and is acknowledged to be a sound and useful study of a fascinating story: Wakefield's sudden burst into colonial politics, and his equally sudden removal two years later.

“... makes fascinating reading.” – Helen Taft Manning in American Historical Review.

The Webbs in New Zealand, 1898 (Beatrice Webb's diary with entries by Sidney Webb) edited by D.A. Hamer (Department of History, Victoria University): $2.50. The first edition of this published diary appeared in 1959, and must have been the most reviewed book of the decade. It sold out in a few months.

Now we have a new edition, published in 1974, edited by Professor Hamer. The new book is beautifully designed, and gives a fresh and interesting look at New Zealand politics at the turn of the century.

The Origins of New Zealand Diplomacy: the Agent General in London 1870-1905 by Raewyn Dalziel, $3.60.

The book is about the successive Agents General who represented New Zealand in London – Featherston, Vogel, Dillon Bell, Perceval and, of course, Reeves. It shows how each successive Agent General enlarged the scope and stature of the office and reveals interesting similarities between colonial and present day concerns.

“... meticulous probing and exhaustive ... crisply written. ...” – NZ International Review.

We are publishing these books with Victoria University Press in the hope that the series will grow to be a shelf of well-written scholarly paperbacks that will be useful to history teachers and students, and to a wider audience as well.

The Turanga Journals – The Missionary Journals of Jane and William Williams, edited by Frances Porter.

This substantial collection of edited journals, letters and diaries is preceded and followed by scholarly but lively commentaries by Mrs Porter.

This big book has had good reviews.

$12.00

PRICE MILBURN publishers, with VICTORIA UNIVERSITY PRESS

The New Zealand Journal of History

Vol. 12, No. 2

October 1978

CONTENTS

W.H. Oliver : Oral and Other History	99
Michael King : New Zealand Oral History: Some Cultural and Methodological Considerations	104
Robert Nola : Popper on Historicism and Marxism	124
L.H. Barber : James Gibb's Heresy Trial	146
Hugh Laracy : Church and State in German Samoa: the Solf-Broyer Dispute	158
Reviews: K.R. Howe, Race Relations Australia and New Zealand: a Comparative Survey, 1770s-1970s ; Robin Fisher, Contact and Conflict: Indian-European Relations in British Columbia 1774-1890 (M.P.K. Sorrenson), 168; David Wetherell, Reluctant Mission: The Anglican Church in Papua New Guinea, 1891-1942 ; Caroline Ralston, Grass Huts and Warehouses: Pacific Beach Communities in the Nineteenth Century (Hugh Laracy), 170; K.L. Gillion, The Fiji Indians: Challenge to European Dominance 1920-46 (Ahmed Ali), 172; John La Nauze, Walter Murdoch: A Biographical Memoir (D.R. Walker), 174; J.J. Saunders, Muslims and Mongols. Essays on Medieval Asia , ed. G.W. Rice (Peter Munz), 175; P.G. Robb, The Government of India and Reform Policies towards Politics and the Constitution 1916-1921 (T.H. Beaglehole), 176; Peter Munz, The Shapes of Time: A New Look at the Philosophy of History (Roderick Phillips), 177.
Research	179
Correspondence	183

ANZAAS CONGRESS 1979

The 49th Congress of the Australian and New Zealand Association for the Advancement of Science is to be held at the University of Auckland from 22-26 January 1979.

Brochures, with attached registration forms, can be obtained by writing to the organizing Secretary, 49th ANZAAS Congress, University of Auckland, Private Bag, Auckland. Australians can also obtain brochures from Trans-Australia Airlines. Most of the programmes for the 32 sections of the Congress have been completed and are included in a pre-Congress circular at present being printed. This will be distributed to all those who have registered and to those requesting a copy.

HISTORY: SECTION 26

The President of the History section will be Professor G.M. Dening of Melbourne University.

The programme contains a wide range of papers, primarily but not exclusively, concerned with the history and development of the Pacific basin. The papers have been organized into four themes:

The Unheard Peoples The World We Have Founded The Imprint of Empire The Future of the Past

In addition there will be two general sessions: Professor Geoffrey Blainey of Melbourne University will present a paper entitled 'Long Swings in Pessimism and Optimism in the Western World' and Professor Peter Munz of Victoria University will discuss 'The Future of Historical Study'. Dr Rodolfo Stavenhagen of El Colegio, Mexico, will also initiate an inter-disciplinary symposium, 'Development and Dependency in Latin America and the Pacific'.

Further information about the History section may be obtained from the secretary, Ms J.O. Bassett, History Department, University of Auckland, Private Bag, Auckland.

Papers in section 26 will be presented by the following: Dr A. Ward (La Trobe), Prof. E.M. Johnston (Macquarie), Dr D. Fitzpatrick (Melbourne), Dr M. King (Assoc. Prof. P.S. O'Connor (Auckland), Dr H. Reynolds (James Cook), Dr C. Moore (James Cook), Dr K.E. Saunders (Queensland), Prof. D. Hauer (Victoria), Dr J. Young (Adelaide), Dr H. Jackson (Auckland), Dr B. Douglas (La Trobe), Dr D. de Gusmano (Griffith), Prof. S. Laukeni (Papua New Guinea), Dr M. Stephen (La Trobe), Dr M. Pugh (Massey), Dr W. Phillips (La Trobe), Dr Robin Fisher (Simon Fraser), Dr E. Oksen (Osaka), Dr J. Matthews (Adelaide), Dr J. Bailey (La Trobe), Dr D. Walker (New South Wales), Dr Colin Newbury (Oxford), Dr Carlo Bacchi (Newcastle), Ms P. Robinson (Macquarie), Dr S. Niblo (La Trobe), Dr J. Fogarty (Melbourne), Dr D. Meyrick (Melbourne), Mr M. McKinnon (Victoria), Prof. H.E. Hallam (Western Australia), Prof. A.T. Yarwood (New England), Mr Brian Weaning (Canterbury), Dr G. Rautzen (Macquarie), Dr P. Howell (Flinders), Dr I. Campbell (Adelaide), Dr M. Bretos (New South Wales), Dr A. Frost (La Trobe), Dr A.I. Martin (Adelaide), Mr B. Knox (A.N.U.), Prof. A.G.L. Shaw (Murdoch), Dr B. Peardon and Dr R.M. Fisher (Queensland), Mr P. Gibbons (Waikato).