Otago History Series

new and upcoming titles

Tackling Rugby Myths

Rugby and New Zealand Society 1854–2004

Edited by Greg Ryan

Examines many aspects of rugby in New Zealand since 1854, showing how rugby and identity have been bundled together, and disentangling myth from historical fact. $39.95, ISBN 1 877276 97 9, 248 pages

Landscape / Community

Perspectives from New Zealand History

Edited by Tony Ballantyne & Judith A. Bennett

Essays explore the complex relationships between land, community and identity in New Zealand, at different parts of the country, and at different times. $39.95, ISBN 1 877372 06 4, 192 pages

Edward Eyre, Race and Colonial Governance

Julie Evans

Edward Eyre was a mid-nineteenth century explorer, colonial administrator and later colonial governor. This book explores Eyre's actions in Australia, New Zealand and the Caribbean through his perceptions of the colonial encounter. $39.95, ISBN 1 877372 07 2

Past Judgement

Social Policy in New Zealand History

Edited by Bronwyn Dalley & Margaret Tennant

Rather than judging past practice by present ideals, contributors argue the need to take account of time and context. Issues discussed include child abuse, families and the welfare state, Plunket, Maori health research, the voluntary sector and social security. $39.95, ISBN 1 877276 57 X, 282 pages

Building God's Own Country

Historical Essays on Religions in New Zealand

Edited by John Stenhouse & Jane Thomson

Offers insights into New Zealand's religious past, often through the prism of Otago. $39.95, ISBN 1 877276 92 8, 278 pages

Recently Published History Titles from Victoria University Press

Downstage Upfront The First 40 Years of New Zealand's Longest Running Professional Theatre by John Smythe $49.95 illus.

...John Smythe has done a remarkable thing. It is an elegant, artistic and very useful job.
Elric Hooper THE PRESS

...a good read for theatre-goers and a compulsive read for theatre practitioners.
Elizabeth McRae THE NZ HERALD

State Authority, Indigenous Autonomy Crown-Maori Relations in New Zealand/Aotearoa 1900-1950 by Richard S Hill $39.95

Historians of the relationship between the state and indigenous Maori have focused largely on the 19th century, relatively little work has been done on the 20th. This book sets out to depict the often complex interactions between Maori and the Crown.

Creating a National Spirit Celebrating New Zealand's Centennial edited by William Renwick $39.95

The 1940 Centennial was hailed as a national coming of age and was marked by a national exhibition and events throughout NZ. Maori made their own contributions but it was essentially a Pakeha century that was being celebrated. This book recounts and assesses this emblematic moment in our history.
